

About Jim Calvin

Since 1998, Jim Calvin has had the privilege of serving as President of the New York Association of Convenience Stores, a private, not-for-profit trade organization representing 7,700 neighborhood mini-marts and convenience stores across the state.

He oversees the group's legislative agenda, finances, staff, events, member services, and educational programs.

Jim is a graduate of Utica College of Syracuse University. He also is a graduate of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce Institutes for Organization Management and has been accredited by the American Society of Association Executives as a Certified Association Executive.

He currently serves on the Board of Directors of the Empire State Society of Association Executives and chairs its Marketing Committee. He is also on the Board of the Retailers of New York Workers Compensation Trust.

Jim was a newspaper editor with The Register Star in Hudson NY from 1976 to 1986, Executive Director of the Columbia County Chamber of Commerce from 1988 to 1995, and Marketing Director of Hudson City Savings Institution from 1996 to 1998. He also spent two years as Assistant General Manager of Peterson Petroleum's Cobble Pond Farms convenience store division.

Jim, his wife Jean, and daughter Amanda Joy reside in Columbia County NY.
