

Time is Running Out. Collect the Tax Now.

As pressure builds to balance New York's budget, it's time to close a loophole costing the state billions. Unlike most other states, New York looks the other way while reservation outlets sell over 200 million packs of untaxed cigarettes a year – one third of all cigarettes sold in the state. With New York facing a $9 billion deficit, that's revenue the state can't afford to lose.

But a simple, straightforward solution is pending in the legislature - S. 6985 / A. 10128 – a bill that would lead to immediate collection of these taxes. Some promise tax collection down the road and suggest that we “wait-and-see.” But we've heard that before.

Time is running out – Albany needs to act now. Enforce the law and collect the tax. Join the coalition and contact your legislator - telling them you support S. 6985 / A. 10128.
